The Ailing House Cleaners Used For Bronzes

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN
CLEANING BRONZE-PLATED
BOOK ENDS

Q: I have a pair of bronze-plated book ends that have begun to look dull and grimy. How can they be cleaned?

A: Excellent bronze metal polish and cleaning preparations are widely available at housewares and hardware dealers. Follow manufacturer's instructions for use. Or, cover the bronze surface with a thick, creamy mixture of rottenstone and linseed oil, rubbing with a soft cloth until discoloration disappears. To reach places not easily accessible with the cloth, use a soft brush. Rinse well afterward with warm water; then dry and polish with fresh, clean, soft cloths.

DRIED, GREY SHINGLES

Q: We recently bought an old frame house to use for vacations. The shingles have never been finished and look very dried out and an unpleasant gray. How can they be restored?

A: Unfinished, dried-out wood shingles can be revived with a generous soaking coat of linseed oil. However, this will have no lasting effect. Or, apply a top quality shingle stain, following manufacturer's directions on the label carefully, especially as to surface preparation.

SWEATING FREEZER

Q: I have a deep freezer, four years old, that was starting to rust and also sweats. I scraped it down and cleaned the surface, then applied two coats of paint. The recommended by a paint dealer

Members of the Fleur de Lis Card Club at Kimberly have been meeting weekly for 40 years. They recently celebrated Halloween with a costume party at one of the members' homes. Above, eight of the 10 club members pose in their costumes before sitting down for a few rounds of schafskopf.

Card Club Rules Prohibit Gossiping

BY ED VAN BERKEL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

People who believe women's form card clubs for the purpose of gossip will receive a good workout from 10 Kimberly women who have been meeting weekly for 40 years to play schafskopf. Known as the Fleur de Lis Club, the group meets each Thursday at one of the women's homes.

The meetings rotate in alphabetical order. None of the 10 can recall a fight or disagreement in the 40 years. The rules prohibit gossip.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q: How often should a full grown dog be fed? A. Braun, Hollywood, Fla.

A. After a dog has reached the age of one year, one meal daily is usually sufficient—particularly for outdoor or hunting dogs. I don't think it makes a great deal of difference to the dog whether he is fed morning or evening, if feeding time is regular. For indoor dogs, morning feeding might be preferred as it makes it easier for him to keep clean during the night. Self feeders, which permit the dog to eat a dry prepared dog food whenever he is hungry, are coming into use as the result of research with army dogs.

The dog can regulate his own feeding time. This tends to make a healthier and happier dog.

New Silhouette
At any rate, Abbott's new silhouette nips in quite properly at the waistline and fits snugly all the way to the bosom, where a belt or a well seam accents the latter. Shoulders are wide. Skirts taper to wide at the hem.

During the show, Abbott's models usually were properly covered with choker necklines and sleeves reaching the elbows. "The covered-up look is well bred," he pointed out.

But since a summer tan is useless without a bare back for display purposes, Abbott took some exception to the season by introducing a few costumes with deep scoops or V's in back. Still tiny cuffs, jiffy-knit these cozies for jackets slipped over this flesh in each youngster on your list. Pattern 798; chart; directions children's sizes 4 to 12 included.

But fastening them up wasn't simple. Abbott, by taking a total of five minutes to manipulate the button-down-the-back jackets for the models, drove home the point that any woman with back buttons and zippers should think twice before divorcing a man.

Questions On Sewing

BY PATRICIA SCOTT

How wonderful it is to develop your sewing skills to the point of being able to redesign your clothes easily. Who ever said sewing is drudgery!

Q I have a couple of strapless evening dresses that are perfectly new but I'm tired of them and want to add some sort of straps that are unusual. I sew very well and have no trouble in doing this sort of thing. I wear a size 8 so I have no problems to avoid. Can you suggest an idea or two? One dress is black wool, full length with a straight-across top. The other is floral silk, full length with a shaped top. I'm 25 years old so age isn't a problem either. Mrs. T. O. B.

A Here are three ideas you might want to work from. You can improvise to your taste that ren't run of the mill. For the black wool the top and bottom illustrations can be used. The top is a halter look made of black velvet and you can add an insert of fine narrow white lace ruffles. The bottom is simply a wide strip of plaid taffeta trimmed at the bottom in front gathered at the waist with a stupendous pin over the shoulder and then over one shoulder the back end is placed inside the lining and dress at the top and

Q Will you please tell me how to replace the whole pocket in men's trousers? Mrs. H. L.

A. When pocket is worn along entire edge, cut bars at each end and rip seams open a few inches, just above and below pocket. Rip facing from mouth of pocket. Turn off worn part and be sure to keep a straight line. If the facing is also worn rip other side of it away from cotton pocketing and turn that side out to the pocket edge. Now reattach the facing to pocket mouth right sides of pieces together.

Turn facing back into pocket with seam line just inside. Baste press and stitch as before it was ripped. Resew seams above and below pocket. Bar pocket ends by stitching back and forth for reinforcement.

Q When is the proper time to wear stoles (cloth or fur)? I always thought they should be worn only for late day but I have seen them at morning church services. Mrs. R. S.

No Cancer From Hookah, Indians Claim

Chicago Daily News Service
NEW DELHI — If you must smoke and don't want to worry about cancer you might try an Indian hubble-bubble—known as a Hookah.

For what it's worth, hookah smokers claim that for centuries there has not been a case of cancer from hookah smoking.

This is filter smoking that goes back at least to the Mughal Empire. The raw tobacco is kept afire in an earthen cup by burning charcoal. The smoke passes through a tube into a jar of water and is thereby "purified." Another long tube runs from the jar to the mouth of the smoker.

Lasting Smoke
The ordinary cup of tobacco lasts from 20 to 40 minutes. The idea is to take it easy—look at the stars, play chess or meditate.

The tobacco differs from that in a cigarette. It is mixed with molasses extracts to give it a different taste. Sometimes you can smell its sweet odor for 100 yards. In the old princely days of the maharajahs hookah smoking was for the rich. Some of the hookah bases were made of gold. Others were inlaid with diamonds and pearls.

Today a fairly good hookah costs about a dollar.

Changes in Social Security Law Explained by Leaflet

A leaflet for working persons 65 or over who have never applied for social security benefits is available at the social security office. The leaflet explains changes in the law recently enacted by congress which raises the amount an older worker can earn and still collect some benefits in addition to his earnings.

Older working people, made eligible to collect some benefits because of these changes, will need to get their applications on file before the end of January 1962, according to Frank M. Donnick, district manager of the Appleton social security office. Otherwise, they stand a chance of losing some of the social security payments now due them.

He cited the example of a couple who would be entitled upon application to a monthly check of $180, about the maximum now payable to a retired worker and dependent wife.

Under the law in effect until the beginning of this year, Donnick said, this couple could not be paid any benefits for the year if the husband's earnings exceeded $2,080. Under the new law, his earnings could go as high as $3,610 before the couple would have to forego all of their social security benefits.

A retired worker with no dependents, entitled to a benefit of $74 (the average now being paid) could earn about $2,300 in a year and still get some of his benefits.

Some others may be under the impression that if they earn more than $1,200 in a year, they can not collect any social security benefits. This is not so, he said.

Another thing many people don't realize is that regardless of their annual earnings, a social security beneficiary can be paid his benefits for any month he does not earn more than $100 in wages nor work in self-employment.

Play Expresses Personality Of Children, Doctors Find

BY JOHN MORGAN
Staff Writer

MEENAH—When a child plays, he expresses himself. His play actions indicate his thinking and personality better than his words. As he grows up, his parents and others always are telling him "don't say that," or "leave that alone."

His tongue more or less muzzled and his behavior cutback, the child only has one outlet: play.

Even then, his play is restricted. Few parents would let their children hammer nails into the floor or smear lipstick on the walls.

In some children, the struggle between wanting to act but being forbidden to act. Sometimes they get conflicting orders, making their emotional balances shaky.

Children like that need psychiatric help. They can get it at the Winnebago or Outagamie county guidance centers.

Describes Therapy

Play therapy is the best way of reaching and helping emotionally disturbed children. The psychotherapist goes into the guidance center's playroom and joins the child.

In play therapy, a child can make believe he is doing anything he wants; the therapist does not restrict him (unless, of course, he might try to harm himself, the therapist or the building).

Dr. John Giebhik, clinical psychologist for the Winnebago County Guidance Center at Verona, describes the idea behind play therapy:

"The primary concern is to alter behavior. In the case of children, we often don't know exactly what we've done. But we have a good general idea and try to work within it. Play can be diagnostic and therapeutic."

The first time we see a child in the playroom we're not concerned with modifying behavior. What we want to find out is how does he act in an unfamiliar situation? If he goes into a room with many toys and materials, is he overwhelmed? Does he do things on his own? Does he need his father or mother to go back to the playroom with him? Does he draw the therapist into the play with him? Can he take the strain of leaving his mother or father?

For example clay or finger-paints does he deal constructively with them — does he shape them? Is there something meaningful with a patient, or does he throw them? Does he throw them at objects, or just throw them or does he throw them at you? With paints, does he use color appropriately, or just smear or mix them into one big, dark mass?

We try to be acute in our observations, try to relate them to personality variables. We assume there is a purpose behind everything he does, and we try to find the reason.

Recently the Winnebago County Guidance Center began group psychotherapy with two sections of young boys — one preadolescents and the other adolescents. Said Dr. Giebhik, "group psychotherapy works well with some boys. They find out they aren't so different, that they alone aren't odd."

Handling Clay

From that point we can be more specific and find out how he reacts to situations we set up for him.

For example clay or finger-paints does he deal constructively with them — does he shape them? Is there something meaningful with a patient, or does he throw them? Does he throw them at objects, or just throw them or does he throw them at you? With paints, does he use color appropriately, or just smear or mix them into one big, dark mass?

We try to be acute in our observations, try to relate them to personality variables. We assume there is a purpose behind everything he does, and we try to find the reason.

Recently the Winnebago County Guidance Center began group psychotherapy with two sections of young boys — one preadolescents and the other adolescents. Said Dr. Giebhik, "group psychotherapy works well with some boys. They find out they aren't so different, that they alone aren't odd."

Minimum Control

Further describing the group work Dr. Giebhik said: "We try to exert minimum control, except to forbid damage or physical assaults. Otherwise, they set their own limits. They get pretty demonstrative even taking votes."

One time, a boy punched another in the stomach. Another said they have a trial. They conducted their own court, with a judge and jury I had expected to see physical punishment, as at the cyclone-eye idea, but they came back with a deprivation of the battle of soda water for two weeks. Each boy not having each weekly one-hour session.

"Young adolescents are more verbal. The preadolescents act out things. The boys get a chance to associate with others of their own age. We are permissive and they are not coming to be on top."

In most cases, parents or nurses also are connected by the staff since each emotional problem is in a family setting. Depending on the case, these sessions are weekly to monthly.

The guidance centers also offer individual therapy, the kind of psychiatric treatment of which most people think when the word "psychiatry" is mentioned. It involves face-to-face talks between the client and the therapist. The client talks out his emotional problems and the therapist tries to help — but not in the old, untrained "pull-me-together" style.

Sometimes the Winnebago County Guidance Center works as a consultant to other agencies, such as schools or the community welfare department.

This type of relationship is unique. The child is afforded an hour of exclusive attention with an adult every week. Most children don't get this. Attention is mostly shared with brothers and sisters and with other children in school. Here he has an adult vitally interested in him as an individual. We try to communicate with him and make him feel that way. He can try out things with us that he can't with his parents," Dr. Giebhik concluded. "A school may have a problem or the welfare department may want us to help decide if a child with the public school should be put into one type of institution or another. Sometimes we can consult and not see the child," Dr. Giebhik noted.

Consultation Work

Consultation also can work both in general, as well as specific cases. For instance, caseworkers or teachers may have clients or pupils with certain problems. The guidance center tries to point out the basic behavior rules so generalizations can be made. "We sometimes are further along by working with 10 teachers for one hour than in seeing 30 children individually," said Dr. Giebhik. Each month, the guidance center goes over its Oshkosh city, want us to help decide if a child with the public school should be put into one type of institution or another. Sometimes we can consult and not see the child," Dr. Giebhik noted.

Lawrence Says Fallout Not Dangerous During Tests

Hyprocrisy Marks
Question; Obvious
Whole Story Untold

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—There's a good deal of hypocrisy as well as confusion over fallout and its dangers. For policy reasons of their own neither Washington nor Moscow is telling the whole story. Basically there is no cause for alarm about fallout to-day or next year or in the foreseeable future—unless a nuclear war comes.

Lawrence

What the public confuses is the fallout from testing and the fallout from a nuclear war. These are two different things. Everyone concedes that radioactive fallout in massive doses is fatal. There would be loss of life and bad after effects anywhere within a radius of a few miles when a nuclear bomb is dropped. Hiroshima and Nagasaki present all the proof needed to show that nuclear bombs during wartime are alarmingly dangerous.

But this isn't true about tests. Nobody has yet proved conclusively that—except in the immediate area around it—testing brings any of the dangers which are being publicized widely today, by certain scientists. Nor have the scientists who take the opposite viewpoint been given as wide a hearing.

No Deaths Yet

What's back of these contradictions? For one thing there seems to be agreement that nothing that has happened thus far through atmospheric tests—including explosion of the latest 50-megaton bomb—means death to anybody.

The U.S. Public Health Service has just told the American people not to worry about any fallout emanating thus far from all the bombs ever tested anywhere. The official statement says:

"Fallout levels resulting up until now within the U.S. from the new series of Soviet nuclear tests do not warrant undue public concern, nor initiation of public health action designed to limit intake of radioactive materials by individuals or large population groups in any part of the country."

Why All the Fuss?

Then why all the fuss about testing? To understand what's been going on it is important to examine the propaganda of the Soviets and their tricky objectives in recent years. When tests were first begun, the Communists knew America was ahead in scientific knowledge. So the Moscow government instructed its agents and its stooges everywhere to influence as many of the world's scientists as possible to cry out against nuclear fallout.

Some of the latter group of scientists — including many who were anti-Communist—gave the impression that testing might be as bad as the actual dropping of a bomb in wartime. The public was confused by the scientific terms and even official Washington was somewhat misled.

The Moscow government carried on a worldwide campaign against fallout in the hope of persuading the United States to stop testing. The American government fell for the trick. Taking for granted that the Communists would keep their end of the bargain, the United States declared a so-called "voluntary" moratorium on testing three years ago. A few skeptics thought Russia would cheat. Now it is openly charged that they did. Dr. Edward Teller, known as the "father of the H-bomb," says they couldn't have launched their latest tests without consideration preparation and underground testing in secret.

Progress By Treachery

The net result is that while America has kept her word, the Soviets have made progress by treachery. It isn't a fatal advantage, however, because the experts think the United States is still well ahead of Russia today, though this lead may not be maintained if America doesn't soon resume testing in the atmosphere.

But how can this be done now?

Want-Ads
WORK

"The Mighty Midget"
To Place a WANT-AD
Dial 3-4411

without alienating a world opinion that feels tests bring dangerous fallout? President Kennedy is up against a tough decision on that point. If he doesn't resume the tests, America's security—to be achieved through the use of deterrent power as a way to prevent war—may be diminished. If he does go ahead, he will be confronted with the Communist argument—and the contention of even non-Communist scientists in other countries—that since America is ahead or at least equal in nuclear strength, no useful purpose will be served by continuing to test.

Soviet Victory

It will be argued that the loss of prestige for America should be taken into account. But the realistic truth is that if America doesn't keep on testing to improve her weapons, the Soviet Union will have won a notable victory. There is only one danger that everyone agrees on—the actual dropping of a nuclear bomb near cities would hurt the present atwell as succeeding generations. It could mean a colossal destruction of human life. How is the dropping of nuclear bombs any where to be prevented? By paper agreements that can be disregarded at will? The answer is that only an informed public opinion in the Soviet Union can stay the hand of the dictator.

The Russian people have been kept in the dark about all the tests made recently by their own government. The 50 - megaton bomb makes headlines all over the world — except behind the Iron Curtain. American bombers now carry the equivalent of one bomb of 50 megatons by putting two bombs of 25 megatons each into our more than 600 bombers.

America has more destructive power than Russia has. But the people of Russia don't know this.

Russians Don't Know

The important invention that the world needs today is some means of carrying the truth through the air so that there will be a fall-out of facts which will not hurt but will save the Russian people and all mankind.

Where are the inventors? And what is being done to spread the truth across international boundaries by organized attempts at word-of-mouth communication? These are questions more vital than what will happen 100 years from now as a consequence of some slight amount of radioactivity spread through the air today.

Salvation Army Plans Dedication

$110,000 Building on E. North St. Opens 2:30 p.m. Sunday

The Salvation Army Citadel Corps will dedicate its new building at 130 E. North St. at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, followed by an open house.

Commissioner Claude E. Bates will give the dedication address. He is Salvation Army territorial commander for 11 central states, with headquarters in Chicago.

The dedication service will include a cornet solo by Major Ronald Rowland, a vocal solo by Captain Leslie Sundell, and greetings from Appleton Mayor Clarence Mitchell, Cecil Furninger, building committee representative; Marvin Heiden, United Community Services, and the Rev. I. B. Kindem, president of the Ministerial Association.

$110,000 Building
The $110,000 building was started in April on the site of the old business college building where the Corps had been located for the past 30 years. The entrance was changed from N. Morrison Street to E. North Street, giving the Corps a new address.

The building includes four classrooms, two offices, a chapel, a nursery, an all purpose room and a kitchen.

The work of the Salvation Army in Appleton was started in 1917. Captains Della Rapson and Lily Paul were the first officers.

Present officers are Capt. and Mrs. James Coleman. Officers of the Appleton Advisory Board are William C. Sense, chairman; Ronald W. Anderson, vice chairman; Norman Hall, treasurer; Mrs. O. C. Boldt, secretary, and E. W. Shannon, life member.

Raymond LeVee and Associates were architects for the new building. Contractors were P. G. Milron, general contractor; R. Selig, heating and plumbing and Superior Electric Co.

Oshkosh Man Fined on Two Traffic Counts, Third Charge Delayed

OSHKOSH — Thomas Bernardy, 21, U. S. 41 and Winnebago County Trunk J, was fined $66 Wednesday morning by Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane for driving without a license and driving at night without headlights. Sentencing on a third charge, operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent, was delayed until Dec. 1, on the condition that Bernardy does not drink.

Bernardy was arrested by Winnebago County police Monday night after taking a service station truck and going to a tavern

Flood Relief Sewer Contracts Okayed

Work to be Done in Northeast, Southwest Sections of Appleton

Two storm sewer contracts totaling $93,823 were approved by Appleton's board of public works Tuesday. Both are part of the city's program to relieve flooding after heavy rains.

Largest of the two is for $74,850 to give relief in the Superior and Clark Streets and Glendale Avenue area. Tenor Bros., Green Bay, was the lowest of three bidders. The other two bids were for $99,423 and $152,675.

The other contract is for sewers in the Seventh Ward, on the city's far southwest side, where there are combined sanitary-storm sewer systems. They will be separated and the street catch basins connected to the new storm sewers.

Vinton Construction Co., Manitowoc, submitted the low bid of $18,973. There were seven bids.

Basement Flooding
The relief sewer for the Superior-Clark-Glendale area will go east to Appleton Street, then north to Northland Avenue (U. S. 41), where it will connect with a large trunk line that flows east to Ballard Road. From there the water flows east and south in an open ditch to the Fox River.

During heavy rains last summer streets and basements were severely flooded, and several basement walls collapsed.

A new storm sewer between Drew and Meade Streets was increased from 21 to 36 inches while under construction last August so it could handle the larger load of water.

About 30 property owners from that area appeared at the city council meeting in August, pleading for relief from periodic flooding of their homes.

Sewer Survey
To find out what else needs to be done to relieve flood conditions in various parts of the city, Fennel-Brey Engineering Corp., Manitowoc, was hired to make a complete study of sanitary and storm sewer systems. Estimated cost is $22,512.

Another step in the flood relief program was approval by the

Goblin Night

Halloween Passes Quietly With Soap Windows as Only Reminder

BY DAVID SCHAEFER

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Shattered pumpkins on many Appleton streets and windows placed with wax or soap are the only reminders this morning of a Halloween that came and went quietly.

But it was not completely without incident.

Over 60 Appleton policemen met at 6 p.m. Tuesday night for a briefing at headquarters. This was the full force of patrolmen, detectives and captains. They were given areas to cover and went to work.

Break Up Crowds
Beat men were stationed in business districts to keep the potential crowds from forming. Squad car teams patrolled residential areas, breaking up crowds and keeping people from gathering in what may have been pre-arranged meeting places.

This is the evening for a typical squad team. Car 62 is manned by Detective Robert Frailing and Patrolman Wayne Huebner.

7:25 p.m. They are called by radio to check a complaint of children throwing things at cars from the S. Mason Street viaduct.

Leaf Fire
8:10 p.m. While patrolling the section of Appleton south of the Fox River a leaf fire is found burning against a fence at St. Elizabeth Hospital. It is stamped out just as a fire engine arrives.

8:24 p.m. A motorist asks for assistance in finding two stray truck or treaters. A few minutes later he reports the children have returned home.

8:32 p.m. A radio complaint that someone is firing aerial bombs at Reid Drive and Carver Lane. Youths questioned in the area have heard them, but no one knows much about them. The area is patrolled, suspicious cars are stopped and checked.

Dog Stolen
8:38 p.m. A woman complains that someone has taken her white dog, leash, collar and all. The area is patrolled, but not a dog in sight.

9:55 p.m. A radio assignment. Halloween problems are over for the evening. A hit and run car has smashed into a parked car in the 1700 block of S. Oneida Street.

As the squad car stops a woman says the hit and run car sped away on Foster Street. She thinks it is a 1957 Oldsmobile, green and white, with a badly damaged front end.

In Pursuit

Patrolman Huebner stays to investigate the accident and Detective Frailing pursues the car from Oneida Street down Foster Street. He radios to inform Menasha police that the damaged car may be headed its way.

A search of the area turns up nothing. At the scene of the accident Huebner has gathered facts — and parts of the hit and run vehicle. The missing car smashed into the rear of a parked car, damaging it extensively. The driver then fled. In backing away from the accident he hit a telephone pole. The woman furnishes a few letters of the license number.

Parents Visit OCTC During Open House

KAUKAUNA — Approximately 30 mothers of student teachers and elementary school students visited the campus of Outagamie County Teachers College Tuesday afternoon. Downspouts and sumpt to view classroom work and other facilities of the college.

Open house was held in observance of National Education week. The event was scheduled early this year to permit student teachers to engage in practice teaching at schools throughout the county for the next two weeks.

Federal Lawyers Given Time to Answer Cain Brief

The government has been given until Nov. 9 to file a reply brief in the appeal of Allan C. Cain, Appleton attorney, and his wife, Margaret, in their conviction on income tax fraud charges.

A date for oral arguments before the U. S. District Court of Appeals in Chicago will be set sometime after that date.

Mr. and Mrs. Cain were sentenced to a year in prison and fined $2,000 each on May 4. They were charged with underestimating their taxable income by $80,674 from 1953 to 1956 and thereby evading $19,946 in taxes.

Phone Damaged In Outdoor Booth

MENASHA — A telephone handset ripped from a public telephone booth was the only incident of malicious Halloween damage reported today by Menasha police. The handset was taken from Fourth and Racine Streets. Otherwise, only the usual soaping of windows occurred, police said.

Young Explorers Find Bridge Walk Causes Adults Concern

Combination of a school vacation, a sunny day and a bridge to explore, brought a hard lesson today for two Appleton boys.

Harry, 7, and Barry, 5, Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Long, 1503 S. Memorial Drive, were reprimanded by Police Det. Jerome Kavaney after they were spotted climbing over the rails of the Memorial Drive bridge by a passing motorist. The motorist called police, who dispatched two squad cars to the scene.

Boys Had Left

When Kavaney arrived, the two boys had left the bridge and were exploring an empty trailer in a vacant lot nearby.

County Board Defeats Job Selection Plan

Superintendent's Job Not Adequately Filled, Say Members

The Outagamie County Board's October order for new selection machinery for the superintendent of public buildings job will not be filled.

The public property and insurance committee in effect decided not to fill the order this morning when a second proposal for a new means of choosing the superintendent was killed, 3-2.

Those who voted against the proposal indicated they want the job abolished because it has not been performed in the past and there is no assurance that it will be performed in the future.

Action This Month

It is probable that committee members opposing the proposal will ask the board to abolish the job at the board's November meeting.

The four-month-old controversy over the life or death of the job started with the former supervisor's retirement. It was agreed he had not done the duties originally described in the ordinance creating the job.

The job has been unfilled since Sept. 1.

The job carries responsibility for the maintenance in the courthouse and courthouse annex. The job holder must work with the trustees of other county buildings on maintenance.

Screen Applicants

The new proposal submitted today stated the county board executive committee would screen applicants for the job and present the names of three applicants to the board.

A proposal Oct. 18 suggested that the public property and insurance committee screen applicants. It was defeated, and the proposal was changed because it was felt a member of the public property committee had an interest in the job.

"You're burning down a house because the plumbing is bad," a proponent of the new motion said this morning. He said the job itself is not bad and could provide a service to the county if filled properly.

Man Fined On License Plate Charge

MENASHA—Ronald Manteufel, 27, 334 Naymut St., Menasha, today admitted city and state charges arising out of his driving since June without license plates on his car.

Police Justice Arthur J. Ales fined Manteufel $54 for improper use of registration, a state charge, and $14 for operating an unregistered vehicle, a city charge.

Police heard Manteufel had been bragging to fellow employees that he had been able to drive without license plates.

He later told police he had applied for license plates July 3, showing a bank money order stub.

Police found Manteufel had cashed the money order about a week later, and spent the money.

Monday, after he received a parking ticket, Manteufel secured a postal money order and applied for plates, police found.

Manteufel paid the $54 today. He has until Nov. 9 to pay the $14 fine and costs on the city charge.

Bell Proclaims Education Week

NEENAH — The week of Nov. 5-11 has been proclaimed American Education Week in Neenah by Mayor Chester S. Bell.

"Our democracy functions around the principle that every child's birthright is that of a sound, well-rounded education, half million dollars it spends on and our progress and existence depend on this," Mayor Bell said in his proclamation.

"The teachers and educators of this nation are entrusted with the greatest and most important job in the world—that of moulding our future scientists and leaders in all fields.

"Now, therefore, I, Chester S. Bell, mayor of the City of Neenah, do hereby proclaim Nov. 5-11 as American Education Week in the City of Neenah, and urge all our citizens to take this opportunity to visit our schools and become familiar with their administration and pay tribute and extend special recognition to all our teachers and educators."

Committees Still Not Satisfied On Boundaries; Redistribution Suggested by One Board Member

BY JACQUELINE FIX

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The Outagamie and Calumet counties, school committees approved a petition for attachment of the western and north lakeshore area of the Harrison School District to the Appleton School District by an eight to three vote, Tuesday.

The committees expressed dissatisfaction with the way the boundary lines were drawn and made it clear that changes may be made later.

"We do this somewhat with tongue in cheek," explained Otto Meili, New Holstein, a member of the Calumet County committee and chairman of the hearing, when announcing the vote.

Federal Aid Rapped During Board Session

Oshkosh Man Hits At Support for Guidance Center

OSHKOSH — Opposition to the County Guidance Center was expressed by the only spectator to show up at the Winnebago County board's public hearing on the proposed 1962 county budget this morning.

George Hildebrant, Oshkosh, said he was opposed to the guidance center and also to the philosophy of receiving state and federal aid since with those aids come federal controls.

Different Things

Mental health and mental illness are different things, Hildebrant said to the board and he distributed leaflets dealing with mental health.

"If the children are not emotionally disturbed when they go into a guidance center, they will be before they are through. Emotionally disturbed children should be taken care of by their parents. If there were more religious convictions, there would not be as many disturbed people. Only God will solve the serious things confronting our nation."

Hildebrant said the board is practically doubling the appropriation for the guidance center. "They get a foot in the door and then keep asking for more funds Room is rented in the American Legion building across the street from the school for the first grade classes.

Necessary Evil
Chairman Joseph Drexler said that sometimes federal aid is a necessary evil, unless a complete change is made by the federal government you can't avoid taking advantage of it.

Supv. Laurel Heaney, Neenah, Welfare Committee chairman, pointed out Winnebago County gets back about 80 per cent of the sound, half million dollars it spends on and our progress and existence depend on this," Mayor Bell said in his proclamation.

Hildebrant then expressed his opposition to the entire theory of federal and state aid and the bureaucracies they create.

Man Forfeits $100 On Speeding Charge

OSHKOSH — Oscar Wiesman, 50, Weyauwega, forfeited $100 in Municipal Court Wednesday for speeding 86 miles an hour at night. He was arrested Sept. 19 on State 110 in the Town of Winnebago by state police.

Federal Aid Rapped During Board Session

Effective July, 1962
The attachment will be effective July 1, 1962. By state law, all districts not in a high school district by that date will be put in one by the county school committee.

An earlier petition for attachment of this area, with slightly different boundaries, to the Appleton school system was denied by the joint school committees on Sept. 25 by a 6-4 vote.

The attachment will add about 60 elementary and 30 secondary students to the Appleton school system. The elementary students now attend Harrison School, and most of the high school students go to Kaukauna High School.

A public hearing on the petition was held at Harrison School, followed by a conference of the two school committees with the Appleton and Harrison school boards, before the vote was taken. The vote was by ballot.

A major point of controversy at the public hearing was the fate of the Harrison School. Opponents of the attachment expressed fear that the school would have to be closed if that many students were taken. The school has about 128 students.

School Overcrowded
Those favoring the petition said that the school was overcrowded now and that normal growth would ensure its continued operation. Room is rented in the American Legion building across the street from the school for the first grade classes.

Robert Strauss, director of the Harrison School Board and a backer of the petition, read a letter from a state patrolman to substantiate mileage figures from a point in the petitioning area to the proposed southeast Appleton High School and to the Kimberly and Kaukauna high schools. Opponents have disputed their claims that every point in the petitioning area will be closer to the proposed Appleton High school than to others.

Eugene Charness, opposing the petition, noted that a bus route would not follow the closest route but would have to zigzag.

Charness also claimed that

Two Appleton Plants Hit by Minor Fires

Two Appleton industrial plants were afflicted by fires Tuesday and today. Only minor damage resulted.

Sparks from molten metal ignited a wall of Valley Iron Works' foundry about 5:28 a. m. today. The fire was confined to a small area near the roof. The Appleton Fire Department was at the scene for 55 minutes.

The sprinkling system and a hose were used to extinguish a blaze at 4:43 p. m. Tuesday at Interlake Mill. A welder's torch might have caused the fire in the wood room, the fire department said.

A small part of an outside wall was burned on the interior. The fire department left the scene after 35 minutes.

Failure to Have Driver's License Costs Man Fine

MENASHA. — Twenty days in jail or $68 in fines and court costs were levied today against Jerome Lee, 21, route 2, Neenah.

Police Justice Arthur J. Ales fined Lee $54 or 15 days for improper use of evidence of registration and $14 or five days for driving without a driver's license.

He was arrested Monday night on Racine Street. He was found to be using license plates issued to an Appleton man. Although eligible for a driver's license, Lee has none because he has failed to file proof of financial responsibility. The state Motor Vehicle Department requires a proof certificate because his license had been revoked for one year in 1960.

He began serving a jail term today.

Menasha to Open Negotiations for Joint Sewer Plan

Suburban Area May Abandon Plans for Own Construction

MENASHA—The Menasha Common Council Tuesday decided to reopen negotiations with the Town of Neenah to allow the rural area to join the city's sewer system. Nearly two years ago, the town's request was summarily rejected.

Ald. Robert Sullivan moved, and Julian Weisgerber seconded the motion to put the council on record in favor of allowing the town into the joint Neenah-Menasha sewerage system and asking the town board and sewerage commission to meet on the matter.

Junior Firms Teach Boys Dollar Sense

Two Corporations Formed by Neenah High School Boys

NEENAH — Two new "corporations" were formed Tuesday night as a group of Neenah and Menasha High School junior and senior boys met to learn the operations of business firms under the Junior Business program sponsored by the Neenah-Menasha Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Elected as officers of Tamica Products Corp. were Peter Green as president, John Conway as vice president, John West as secretary and Douglas Wolterding as treasurer. Co-sponsors of this company is Bergstrom Paper Co.

This firm will make up and sell products made with paper tape. It plans to raise $125 through the sale of stock at 50 cents a share. No "stockholder" is allowed to purchase more than five shares of stock.

Ice fishing tip-ups will be made and sold by Neenah-Menasha Youth Products Co. Officers elected for this company Tuesday night are Ron Keberlein as president, Tom Hanson as vice president, Foss Bayser as secretary and Karl Kobal as treasurer.

This company plans to sell $200 in stock at 50 cents a share and a five-share limit for purchasers. A co-sponsor for this firm is being sought.

The boys will meet for two hours each Tuesday night at the basement room of the National Manufacturers Bank, aided by a Jaycee committee. They will pay themselves wages while they work and will get commissions on their product sales.

Ron Lange is the Jaycee committee chairman and is assisted by Everett Foster, Ned Bradley, William Engle, Tom Murphy, Masen Sitzes and James De Wolf.

County to Pull Out of Jobless Pay Program

OSHKOSH — Withdrawal of Winnebago County from the unemployment compensation program of the state industrial commission was approved by the Winnebago County Board Tuesday afternoon.

Counties in 1953 were given permission by state law to withdraw from the program. Winnebago County had $25,000 in unemployment compensation benefits on hand with the commission then and has contributed nothing since.

Supv. Orrin King, Oshkosh, finance committee chairman, said the county had about $2,100 left of that $25,000 and would pull out when that balance is used up.

Hard to Get Back

The highway department, he explained, prefers to keep its men on duty rather than to lay them off and collect unemployment compensation since it is hard to get them back when they are needed.

A suggestion by the judiciary committee to have the family court commissioner placed on a civil service system rather than be appointed by the circuit judge was tabled when it was pointed out that Winnebago County does not have a civil service system.

Baltimore Renews Rochester Pact

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles have renewed their working agreement with the Rochester Red Wings of the International League, the Baltimore club announced Tuesday.

Orlando President-General Manager Lee MacPhail also announced the reappointment of Clyde King as Rochester manager.

Omro Woman Hurt As Car Leaves Road

OSHKOSH — Mrs. Lawrence Muscavitch, route 2, Omro, was injured shortly after 9 p.m. Tuesday when her car went into a ditch off State 116 west of Winnebago. She was taken to Mercy Hospital by a Moore ambulance.

Mrs. Muscavitch received a fractured nose and injured her left leg. She lost a considerable amount of blood, county police reported. She told police she did not know what had happened.

Order 65-Year-Old Man Held on Charge

OSHKOSH — Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane Monday afternoon ordered Claude Day, 65, 1917 Michigan Ave., Oshkosh, to plead Friday morning to a charge of sexual intercourse with a 15-year-old Oshkosh girl. Day was bound over after a preliminary hearing before Judge Cane who decided to continue the bond at $3,000.

Day was arrested by Oshkosh police Oct. 11. He and the girl were found by police in a parked car.

Thor' the Lion Can Remain in Woody's Cellar

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Thor, a 200-pound African lion, may remain in Woodrow W. Woodhouse's basement.

The city commission went to Woodhouse's aid Tuesday and passed a law allowing wild animals inside the city limits providing the owners get a permit. Woodhouse purchased the lion from a zoo.

News that Woodhouse was keeping Thor leaked out recently when the jungle cat bit his owner. The county prosecutor's office received a complaint about wild animals being allowed inside the city.

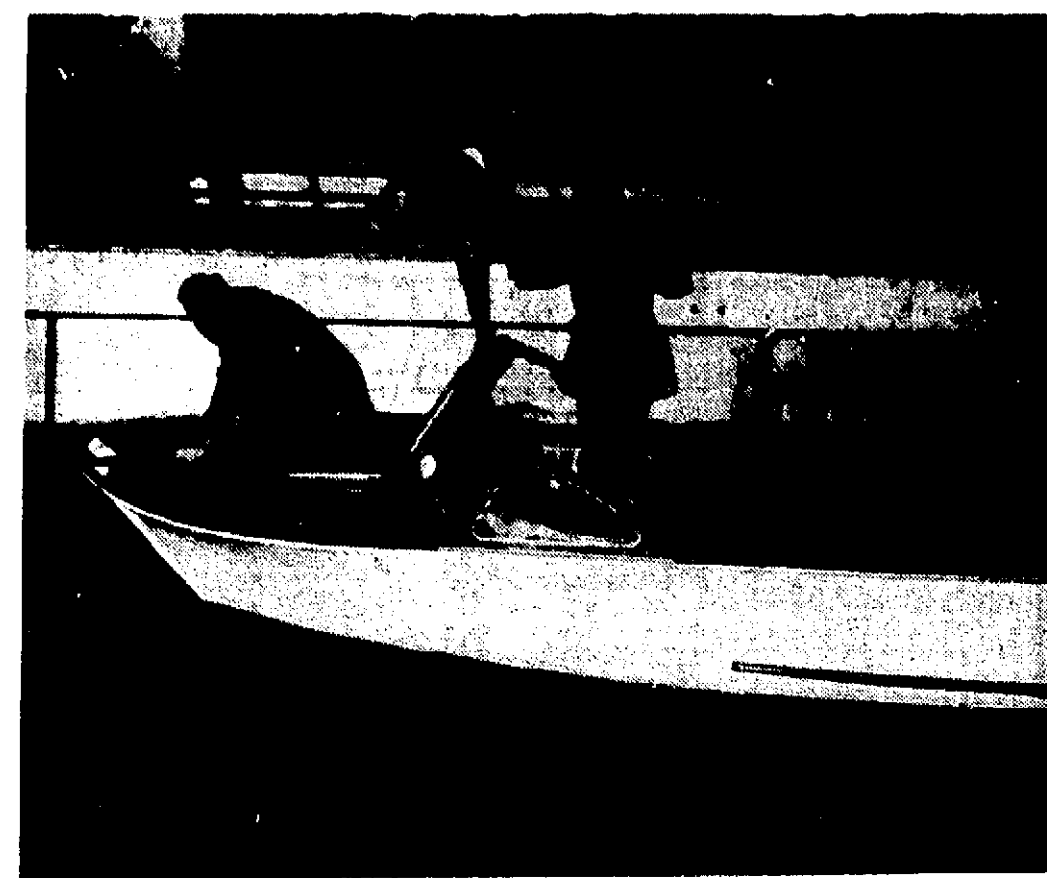

Woodhouse then started a campaign for the new law.

"If he did get out and spotted one of you, Thor would go the other way," Woodhouse told the commission.

Omro Woman Hurt As Car Leaves Road

OSHKOSH — Mrs. Lawrence Muscavitch, route 2, Omro, was injured shortly after 9 p.m. Tuesday when her car went into a ditch off State 116 west of Winnebago. She was taken to Mercy Hospital by a Moore ambulance.

Mrs. Muscavitch received a fractured nose and injured her left leg. She lost a considerable amount of blood, county police reported. She told police she did not know what had happened.

Four Twin City Young people escaped without injury at approximately 10:20 p.m. Tuesday when the boat in which they were riding became wedged in the third sluice gate of the Menasha dam. Thomas Schueppert, 16, 552 Riverway, was unable to start the motor of the 17-foot cruiser after pushing off from a pier behind his home, and the craft became caught in the strong current. Police and firemen are pictured attempting to free the cruiser from the dam.

Charlie Finds Citizen Soldier's Life Goes Through Violent Changes

RY CHARLES HOUSE Post-Crescent Staff Writer

FORT LEWIS, Wash. — Take a soldier — any soldier — from among Wisconsin's 32nd Infantry Division of citizens recently uprooted from civilian life to take on the uniform and the accountability of war.

His life and habits and customs are changed, violently altered.

Take — for example — Pfc. Larry Hutzler, 20, of Green Bay, and you have a representative of many.

The young soldier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Hutzler, is a 1959 graduate of Premontre High School. In March of that year he joined the Wisconsin National Guard, which is now on active duty here.

House — I joined the guard because it was the best way to fill my military obligations. I understood there was a chance that we would be activated but — like most of — I didn't figure on it.

Now Hutzler has lost the preface "Mr." to private first class. His salary has been reduced to $99.85. His privacy is a thing of the past. Now he is a rifleman, one of many.

The call-up of the guard struck Hutzler hard, he admits. The thought of spending a year as a soldier gave him "a hollow feeling" in his stomach.

But now, after one week, he is resigned to the task. Like others, he intends to do his job. Here, presently, is how he lives:

He is awakened at 5:30 a.m., then starts to bustle. If he neglected shave last night (as he is expected to) he tries to shave hurriedly now, using for a mirror with his hands.

Sweep Down Area

Quickly, he scurries back to make his bed, just so, and await the coming of the single broom of his barracks. Each soldier sweeps around his own sleeping area, then passes the broom down to the next in line.

Now he checks the uniforms on the racks. Are the buttons closed? Is everything neat? Dusted?

A whistle blows and, with the 96 enlisted men of his company and the 40 in his barracks, he "falls out" into the company area where his 1st-Sgt. Floyd J. Stier calls the roll, and makes necessary announcements. The time is 6 a.m.

He returns to his barracks and finishes tidying up. Breakfast is at 6:10 a.m. This could be orange juice, powdered eggs, bacon, milk or coffee, cereal and bread.

Full Day of Classes

After breakfast, he said, "The day begins." His first classes begin. Today they are on "military courtesy" and "military justice," elementary. But when the 32nd is completely settled, the classes will cover many phases of his duties in combat and in his conduct as a soldier.

The classes, either indoors or out, last from one to two hours each and there are two to four classes in the morning; and two to four classes in the afternoon. He, like others, is assigned to a task. It could be kitchen police. He "pulls" kitchen police in his regular turn and while on that duty he works from 4:00 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., with an occasional "break."

He may peel potatoes, clean up the dining room, mop the floors, unload trucks laden with food supplies, scrub garbage cans, crush and dispose of empty food cans.

One K.P. is assigned for each 30 men. He works at this job only one day until it comes his turn again.

If he is not specifically assigned to a task on these "moving in days," he is required to remain in the barracks on call for other duties. He uses this time in polishing his boots (necessary each day), in polishing his brass, and otherwise getting prepared for inspections which may come at any time.

Sometimes he may be assigned to guard duty at night, a task which is necessary from 6:00 p.m. until 6:00 a.m. His post might cover one block or two, and he will patrol areas to protect the company area, its supplies, its motor pool. He will patrol for two hours and then be relieved for four hours for the total of 12 hours. Six guards are on duty each night.

He will be required to learn his "general orders" which outline his specific duties, like this one: "To walk post in a military manner, keeping always on the alert and observing everything within sight or hearing."

If he is not a guard, his day ends when the work is done. Usually, his evenings are free. He uses them variously.

"I write more letters than I did at home," he said, and he estimates that he writes one and sometimes two letters to his parents each week, and others to his friends at home — about 15 letters per week.

Perhaps he will visit one of the beer gardens on the post (3.2 beer is sold) for an hour or so perhaps he will elect to play cards — poker, smear, or cribbage. Perhaps he will visit the service club with a small group of friends. There he may listen to records, study the bulletin board "to see what else is going on at the post." Perhaps, though, he will go to a movie.

"It's strange that I get a funny feeling when I come out of the show," he said. "It used to be that I'd take my girl to a movie in my car, then drive her home. Now I walk out of the theater and I find myself with a bunch of soldiers, walking toward the barracks. It's a kind of a shock."

Just Walk Around

"Some evenings I just walk around and visit friends from other companies and talk to them," he said.

"Sure, I feel lonesome," he said in answer to a question, "but so does everybody else. I feel sorriest for the married man and the ones with children. They feel it the worst. I know. There are 59 married men in this company of 96 enlisted men."

What's Good About It

"And I miss the freedom I had at home. I miss playing my guitar, but I'm going to send for it."

Engine Fails to Start

Double Date on Halloween Nearly Ends in Boat Tragedy

BY JOHN MORGAN Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MENASHA — Halloween 1961 was a lovely night for a double date boat ride.

When a 40-horsepower outboard engine failed to start Tuesday night, it nearly meant tragedy in four families.

At 16, one has a gay outlook; fun is easy. That's why the four 16-year-olds decided to take a ride in Tom Schueppert's 17-foot boat. They boarded in the Schueppert boathouse, 552 Riverway, Menasha, and shoved off about 10:15 p.m.

While adrift, the foursome found the boat battery was run down, so the starter would not operate.

Floodgates Open

About 400 yards downstream, four floodgates on the Menasha dam were open, causing strong current in the Menasha channel of the Fox River. The drifting boat was caught in the current, and despite frantic paddling, went toward the spillway.

On the boat, besides Schueppert, were Warren "Kip" Whittinger, 810 Hewitt St., Neenah; Judy Keller, 1417 Lorain Court, Appleton; and Mary Regan, Congress Road, Neenah.

The small boat drifted beneath the Racine Street bridge, then went under the ancient Mill Street bridge, where Schueppert grasped the understructure. Unable to hold the boat at the old bridge, Schueppert released his hold and clambered up to the top of the bridge.

The boat crunched into the third gate out from shore. A night watchman at George Banta Co., August Schmidt, saw the boat's distress and called Menasha police.

The boat stayed wedged in the floodgate despite the strong current. The two girls and Whittinger climbed from the craft while it bobbed in the spillway.

Seven Menasha policemen and two firemen, the last in the emergency truck, helped pull the craft from the floodgate area after Harry Wilson, lockmaster, closed the gate in which the boat was stuck.

Police Chief Peter P. Clark today warned boaters that the current is very strong, since the four gates are open. "Stay away from the dam," he said.

Sentence Youth To 6-Year Term At Reformatory

OSHKOSH — A 16-year-old Oshkosh youth, Charles Klein, 34 W. 12th Ave., was sentenced Monday afternoon by Municipal Judge by Municipal Judge Gustave J. Arnold J. Cane to not more than six years at the Green Bay reformatory on six counts of burglary, one of car theft and one of being intimate with a 16-year-old Oshkosh girl.

Klein pleaded guilty to the charges Friday afternoon. A companion, James Rost, 18, 532A Ober St., Oshkosh, Monday afternoon was given a three-months county jail sentence for aiding and abetting in one of the burglaries.

Sentencing of a third youth, George Burnett, 18, 322 W. 11th Ave., Oshkosh, on a similar morals charge was postponed until Nov. 27 for a pre-sentence investigation while a fourth person, David Zimmerman, 24, 448 Jefferson St., Oshkosh, will have preliminary hearing Thursday on the liminary hearing Thursday on a morals charge against him.

Rost was involved only in the one charge of aiding and abetting Klein in the burglary of a service station and pleaded guilty to that charge Friday afternoon.

Burnett and Zimmerman were involved only in the morals charges. Both were arraigned Friday afternoon and Burnett pleaded guilty then.

Judge Cane levied consecutive sentences of three years each on two of the burglary charges and concurrent three year terms for the other burglary charges. One year sentences for the car theft and morals charge will be concurrent with the burglary sentences, making a total of not more than six years he is to serve.

"I'm reasonably happy," he said. "I'm single, so my paycheck will be okay, the Army gives me clothes and I have no real expenses other than that. I can't say I don't like it. There's much that is very, very good. And I'm resigned to it. "But," he added, "like most of us, I'll figure that by the end of the year, I will have done my duty."

Lawrence President Peers Into Future

Knight Sees Growing Metropolis, Higher Salaries, More Students

President Douglas M. Knight shall be in operation throughout the year.

(2) We shall be competing, as we are now, with the best of the very wealthy colleges. We shall still be far 'simpler' than they, and far less privileged; in the quality of our job, however, we shall try to concede nothing to them.

(3) Faculty salaries will rise radically. We must face the fact of competition both within the field and from associated fields outside teaching. We shall have to plan on full competition with industry and the professions.

Area Will Grow

(4) We, as a college, shall exist within a regional community of better than a half million people, much closer together, much more like one metropolis than it is now. Without making any judgment on this event, it will take place; and the college will have some unusual opportunities and responsibilities as a result."

President Knight described the current state of the college:

"The year is under way satisfactorily, the new deans are doing their job very effectively, the inquiries and applications for next year's entering class are already a source of concern to us — not only as we look forward to making decisions about them and then to educating them, but as we try simply to process their applications in a humane and effective way.

No Charges Yet In Door County Death Fight

Sheriff Investigates Scuffle Killing of Detroit Apple Picker

STURGEON BAY — Charges have not been filed as yet by Door County authorities against persons involved in a fight resulting in one man's death early Sunday morning.

James Thomas Samuels, 40, Detroit, a member of a Negro apple picking crew, was dead on arrival at a Sister Bay doctor's office. Sunday. An autopsy showed the man had died of knife wounds damaging his heart.

The crew foreman, Henry William Horton, of Mississippi, admitted Monday night he had fought with Samuels before he died. Horton said he beat Samuels with a 30-inch wooden cot slat said Door County Sheriff Marvin Zwicky. The man told the sheriff, Samuels received the knife wounds when he fell on a knife.

Scuffle Started Sunday

Horton told authorities a scuffle started Sunday morning when Samuels interfered in a family disturbance. Held with Horton for further investigation is Joe Louis Patterson, 28, Springfield, S.C., and Alfred Horton, 30, Arcadia, Fla.

The fight was at a migrant camp near the Goldman Orchard, Ellison Bay. Zwicky plans to question other workers at the camp before posting charges.

Emergency Treatment

Samuels had received emergency treatment from a doctor at Sister Bay, Sunday morning after the fight. The man was ordered by the doctor to go to the hospital, but he was brought back to the camp instead. Later, that morning, Samuels was taken back to the doctor, but was dead on arrival.

The sheriff recorded these events after questioning Henry Horton, the crew foreman:

A scuffle started when Samuels interfered with a family dispute between Alfred Horton and his wife which broke out when he took a trip to buy milk with Mrs. Patterson, 30. Mrs. Horton charged after Mrs. Patterson with a cot slat. Henry Horton took the slat away and hit Mrs. Patterson. She went to her cabin and came back with a butcher knife.

Henry Horton hit the woman again and knocked the knife from her hand. Mrs. Patterson returned to her cabin and Samuels followed her.

Samuels was then chided by Henry Horton for interfering and Samuels produced a knife. Henry then beat Samuels on the head with the bed slat.

Man Fell

Samuels left for his cabin, and Horton followed with the intention of firing the worker. After that, said Zwicky, the story is unclear, but Horton said Samuels fell on a knife and received the wound. Samuels then walked about 70 feet from the cabin, Horton told Zwicky, and fell over.

Samuels was taken to a doctor the first time at 9:30 a.m. and was returned there dead at 11:30 a.m. The doctor notified authorities.

At midnight the extra patrolmen are called in and go off duty. Those who will spend the rest of the night are put on the alert for the hit and run car.

Quiet Halloween

The consensus is that "it was a quiet one." One detective begins making out his complaint on a not too unusual story with a Halloween twist.

A boy, believed to be 13 or 14 years old, tried to lure two 10-year-old girls into a shack by telling them there was a contest for costumes. He asked them if they would like to be contestants. They fled when he asked them to come into the shack.

Another day is over. Another Halloween has passed.

The Appleton Police Department listed 15 calls as "Halloween complaints." They came in between 6 p.m. and 11 p.m. and included such "tricks" as throwing tomatoes at homes, shooting air pellet guns, throwing "things" off the S. Mason Street viaduct, exploding home made bombs and the old standbys of just "causing trouble," smashing pumpkins and soaping windows.

No Complaints!

Outagamie County police were surprised this morning that no Halloween complaints had come in. But they had a stack of blank complaint sheets near the telephone and were waiting.

Nelson Vetoes Education Bills

Measure Would Have Required Pledge of Allegiance in Schools

MADISON (AP)—Gov. Gaylord Nelson today vetoed two bills in the education field.

One would have required recitation of the pledge of allegiance by pupils in public and private grade schools.

Nelson said he rejected the measure because the attorney general held mandatory recitations of the pledge in violation of the U. S. Constitution.

Insurance Coverage

The other would have authorized the Board of Regents of State Colleges to buy insurance or set up its own fund to provide settlement to persons injured on state college property irrespective of fault. It also would have authorized insurance coverage to participants or spectators injured at athletic contests and other events and activities.

The governor said the language of the bill could permit insurance coverage far beyond stated intent of the authors and added that the attorney general's office has found the bill would not create a valid law.

The governor signed bills to: Allow blanket bond or insurance for county officials not required by law to be bonded and permit obtaining insurance through commercial companies or creation of a county fund for bonding purposes.

Allow operation without permit of trucks used to transport cars if the overall length of the carrier does not exceed 60 feet.

30 Tax Complaints Filed Only for Personal Property

Complaints filed by the City of Appleton against 30 residents are for failure to pay personal property taxes.

The Post-Crescent Tuesday incorrectly said the complaints are for both real estate and personal property taxes.

A court judgement against these people would put a lien on anything they own, including real estate, so that the city could collect the delinquent taxes if the owners sold the property.

Championship Rodeo Coming to Bay Arena

Points Won at This Weekend's Show Count Toward Annual World Records

What is it, and how do you pronounce it? The word is "rodeo," a form of spectacular entertainment normally seen farther west and outdoors. Fox Valley enthusiasts will have a chance to see one first hand for the first time—and indoors—this weekend when the World Championship Rodeo brings its circuit to the Veterans Memorial Arena at Green Bay.

First, this matter of pronunciation, which has been a subject of both good natured and heated argument for years. The question is, do you pronounce it "road-o," or "road-day-o," with the accent on the "day"? The answer, either is correct, famous was and still is the great although the dictionary gives a Pendleton Round-Up in Oregon, slight preference to the first pronunciation where the champion cowboys are crowned. Oldest continuous rodeo is that at Prescott, Ariz., which has been going since 1888.

Perry Como Performs New Dance

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-7:30 (channel 4-5) — Carolyn Jones, who appeared in the first Wagon Train in '57, is back in tonight's tale. It could be called a melodrama, for it's an exercise in psychiatric Western. Miss Jones is first seen wandering along the trail and wriggling out of a primitive strait jacket. The train picks her up and a doctor (John Lupton) begins his prairie psychoanalysis.

7:30-8:30 (channel 2) — Tonight's second afflicted girl is Claire Bloom, blinded on checkmate. She's a top news magazine photographer, and apparently some of her shots are incriminating. So the syndicate sends a man to get them back and, in the melee, Miss Bloom gets some developing acid in her eyes.

8:30 (channel 4-5) — The Twist, which looks like somebody drying himself off with a towel, forms the basis for the high spot on The Perry Como Show tonight. To the tune of Perry's latest record, "You're Following Me," the whole gang goes into commotion — even Frank Gallop and Mitchell Ayres try their hips at it. Perry's guests tonight are Shirley Booth and Gloria DeHaven, the latter doing a solo to "The Lady Is a Tramp."

8:30 (channel 4-5) — The Bob Newhart Show continues to present high-altitude humor, and tonight Bob takes us up in a flying classroom for the most fun. He kids the airlines, in his airborne school for training pilots in how to make announcements — no matter what the weather, they are to say it is "mild turbulence" and the announced altitude should always be 35,000 feet.

9:10 (channel 11) — Naked City leaves a few unanswered questions, but still manages to offer a taut tale if you're not too picky about details. A philanthropist husband convinces the pretty Swedish governess (Ulla Jacobsson) to help him in some preliminary work leading up to the disposal of his wife (Constance Ford).

9:10 (channel 2) — The Steel Hour has another campus tempest comedy, with bright moments and dull moments intermingling. "Little Lost Sheep" is a spoof of high-pressure public relations, with a communications expert trying to modernize a college's curriculum to attract big business. Hans Conried and Jane Wyatt are the married professors who oppose this.

9:30-10 (channel 4-5) — David Brinkley's Journal is in two parts, both taking us to foreign shores. The first, and longest, is a belated look at the election in British Guiana which produced Cheddi Jagan. Then we're off to Cambodia in Asia, to see a land which has made neutrality pay off.

10:20-12 (channel 4-5) — Jack Paar has John Crosby, Alexander King and Louise O'Brien as guests.

AHS Seniors to Attend Science Symposium

4 Invited to State Meeting of Students, Teachers in Madison

Four Appleton High School seniors have been invited to take part in a junior science symposium at the University of Wisconsin in Madison Thursday through Saturday.

The students — Kathy Cook, Roy Noffke, Thomas Stoeger and Arthur Vaughn — were selected on the basis of their ability, interest and achievement in the field of scientific experiment.

Charles Scribner, AHS biology teacher, will accompany the students to Madison.

About 150 teachers and students from throughout the state will attend the symposium. Their travel and living expenses will be paid by the symposium through funds allotted by the Army Mathematics Center and the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. Conrad Elvehjem, UW president, will speak to the group at a noon luncheon Friday. Other highlights of the meeting will be addresses by distinguished scholars, tours of the campus and presentations by the students.

Scribner will attend a meeting of the Junior Academy Committee while in Madison.

200 Women Take Part In Protest Against Nuclear Bomb Tests

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 200 women, many of them pushing baby carriages and strollers, demonstrated today against nuclear bomb testing.

Separate demonstrations were staged outside the Soviet Union's United Nations delegation building and the Atomic Energy Commission's New York operations office.

About 125 women picketed on the north side of 68th Street, between Park and Madison Avenues. The Soviet U.N. delegation building is at the northwest corner of 68th Street and Park Avenue. Another group of more than 100 women marched in front of the AEC offices at 376 Hudson Street.

Some carried placards reading "Two Wrongs Don't Make a Right," "No Testing," "Save Our Children," and "Testing Damages the Unborn."

Later, five women headed by Miss Barbara Deming, a freelance writer from Wellefleet, on Cape Cod, Mass., entered the AEC building and talked with Joseph C. Clarke, manager of the office.

They presented him with a letter addressed to Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission in Washington, calling for a permanent end to nuclear testing.

Four Appleton High School students who will attend a junior science symposium at the University of Wisconsin in Madison Thursday through Saturday examine an exhibit in the school's Early American Room. From left are seniors Robert Stoeger, Arthur Vaughn, Roy Noffke and Kathy Cook. Seated is Charles Scribner, biology teacher, who will also attend the symposium.

School Units Approve Harrison Attachment

most of those favoring the petition live on the extreme western edge of the area.

The petition considered Tuesday had only six signatures, although the original petition, which was denied had 218 signatures or 92 per cent of signatures from people living in the area, according to the petitioners.

Those backing the petition explained they did not try to get signatures for the second petition, but tried instead to present their opinions by having a number of people speak at the hearing.

Petitions and opinion surveys have been circulating in the school district asking for attachment to Kimberly and Kaukauna. Some petitions oppose splitting the district because of the possible effect on the Harrison School.

Attachment of the region south of Harrison to the Hilbert High School District was approved by the Calumet County school committee Oct. 11.

Those favoring the petition said their preference for Appleton was due to the fact that people in the area are Appleton-oriented in business, shopping, church and other affiliations.

The estimated equalized valuation of the area approved for attachment is $3.2 million. The estimated valuation for the whole Town of Harrison is $9.3 million.

North Boundary
The northern boundary of the area to be attached to the Appleton School District is Calumet County by Trunk KK running east and west between Appleton and Darby.

The eastern boundary begins at a point one-eighth mile west of the first north-south road west of Mr. and Mrs. John Ready, and runs parallel with the centerline of State 114 to a point one-eighth mile east of the Lower Cliff Road, and then south to the north lakeshore.

Halloween played a trick on Robert Kemps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard H. Kemps, 1412 W. Franklin St., but his friends made it up with treats.

Robert, a fourth grader, became ill early in the evening and couldn't go trick-or-treating. But twice his friends took him out from their annual Halloween trek to share their loot with him.

Sharing with Robert were Michael and Timothy Ready, sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Ready, and Connie James and Donald Milhaupt, children of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Milhaupt.

Rehabilitation Association Sets Essay Contest

The Wisconsin Rehabilitation Association will again co-sponsor the annual state wide essay contest conducted by the Governor's Committee on the Employment of the Physically Handicapped, Dr. R. K. Wilcox, WRA president, announced Monday.

"The Role of the Community in the Employment of the Handicapped" is the subject of the 1962 essay contest. Open to all Wisconsin high school juniors and seniors, the contest will close Feb. 1.

Last year 43 essays from 20 secondary schools were submitted to the Appleton office of the Wisconsin State Employment Service.

New Laws Discussed

Changes in social security law and disability benefits will be discussed at the noon luncheon meeting Thursday of the Appleton Certified Public Accountants in the YMCA.

Speaker will be Donald Leech, Appleton, field representative for the Social Security Administration.

1,150 Voters Registered At Little Chute

LITTLE CHUTE — A total of 1,150 village residents have registered as voters in the community in line with state requirements for pre-registration for communities over 5,000 population, according to Mrs. Loretta Versteegen, clerk-treasurer.

A total of 2,099 voters went to the polls in the last presidential election, thus it is estimated there are over 2,100 eligible voters in the village, according to the clerk.

Registrations are being accepted any time at the clerk's office and plans are being made for another special week to register, thus helping to complete polling lists. Persons are eligible to register as they reach their twenty-first birthday, noted the clerk.

Asked as to the person's name, place of birth, address and the signature of the person registering, thus voters must register in person.

The Map, Based on One Supplied by the U. S. Weather Bureau, traces the path of radioactive fallout from Russia's superbomb blast on Oct. 23. The bureau's Dr. Lester-Machta said the fallout cloud was moving across the north Atlantic Monday, south of Iceland and Greenland. Its leading edge was expected to approach the British Isles and northern Europe Tuesday.

Not Likely That Present Fallout Will Do You Harm

Specific Dangers Hard to Assess, Although Some to Feel Affects

BY ALTON BLAKESLEE
NEW YORK (AP)—The scariest word of the days is fallout. But experts say no one can point to any human being and declare "He's been hurt by fallout from bomb tests." Or "That human cancer or leukemia? Or to woman's baby will be born defective because of fallout, or her grandchildren will."

The odds are practically nil that present amounts of fallout will hurt you as an individual.

Yet it is equally true that some people somewhere will be damaged or will die too soon—possibly ultimately thousands of people—from fallout already loosed by bomb tests.

Adds Many Victims

The Soviet 50-megaton bomb test could add perhaps hundreds or even thousands of potential victims to the list.

But one fact must be made clear. All such estimates mean thousands out of hundreds of millions or even billions of persons.

been gathering the story about fallout.

Key Question

But they cannot yet answer a key question: Exactly how little radiation does it take to cause damage to the genes which determine the inheritance of our children?

This is one basis for statements by scientists which seem confusing often to the public.

Some say the effects from past and present fallout are too tiny even to measure. They do not deny there will not be some effects.

Others estimate numbers. Thus Dr. Linus Pauling, Nobel Prize-winning chemist, estimates 40,000 children would be born with physical and mental defects as a direct consequence of a single 50-megaton bomb. He says this would happen during the next several generations—60 to 90 years or more—among an estimated 100 million children born each year all around the world.

Concern, Not Alarm

Fallout even from the Soviet tests says a U. S. Public Health Service official "is a cause for concern, but not yet for alarm."

Look at the significant details in the fallout story and you can judge better for yourself what the hazards are.

First, fallout can be a lion or a mosquito, relatively speaking. The lion-sized danger would come in H-bomb warfare.

Bombs striking cities and missile bases would suck up millions of tons of dirt, making it highly radioactive, carrying it perhaps 20 miles high.

In an hour, it would start falling down, carpeting great areas with radioactivity if they did not have shelter.

Few Per Cent

In 48 hours, it would lose 99 per cent of its intensity, and become 5,400 potassium atoms break down and emit rays in the body of a 130-pound person.

Fallout from bomb testing is a mosquito compared with war radioactive carbon-14 atoms exploded also.

You get in food the radioactive potassium, which has always been on the earth. Carbon-14 atoms, created by cosmic rays, drift down from the atmosphere to enter living plants, animals and human beings.

Cosmic rays zip through the human body at a rate of about 1,000 per minute, and some might cause genetic changes. If you live at an altitude of one mile, as in Denver, you are hit by twice as many cosmic rays as persons at sea level.

We all breathe radioactive Uranium, radium and thorium. Every minute, more than 2,000 in the ground, and in rocks, in

Denied Use of Party Line to Report Fire

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—John Gentry ran to the telephone when fire broke out in his home.

Someone was talking on the four-party line.

"I told them, 'Please give me the line! My house is on fire!'"

Gentry said, "but a man said 'Oh, yeah, we know. My house is on fire, too.'"

Gentry's wife finally ran to a neighbor's house to call firemen.

Battalion Chief Robert Howard said he couldn't tell how much of the $2,200 damage was due to the lost time, but the delay "certainly was a factor."

Can't Avoid It

All of this unavoidably adds up to an average exposure of about 4 1/2 roentgens of radiation in 30 years of living. Roentgens are a measure of radiation intensity.

An efficient X ray of the chest exposes you to 1-10th to 1-25 of one roentgen.

A 5 per cent increase in radiation due to bomb test fallout means that in 30 years, the average person would get exposed to about 1-5th of a roentgen more.

Adjutant Puts 'For Rent' on State Armories

Vacated Buildings
Available Subject
To 30-Day Notice

MADISON (AP) — The Wisconsin Adjutant General's Office hung out the "For Rent" sign Monday on the 46 armories vacated last week when the 32nd Division moved to Ft. Lewis, Wash., for combat training.

"We have 46 armories, 32 of them fairly new, that we'll rent subject to 30-day cancellation," said Col. Edward S. Silvers, installation officer.

Silvers said there have been many inquiries and that one of them has been rented. The Superior army was taken over by an auto dealer for storage.

Six of the state-owned armories remain in service for military units that have not been called to active duty. Leases have been canceled on 22 of 24 rented armories.

Last to Leave

As Silvers was listing his properties, it was announced in Milwaukee that the last two 32nd Division members remaining on active duty in the state will leave Wednesday for Ft. Lewis.

Capt. Eugene J. Giddings, 38, of Spooner, and Sgt. Kenneth Day, 37, of Milwaukee, were left in the Milwaukee headquarters to take care of emergencies.

"We took one fellow off the plane as it idled for takeoff," said Giddings, an assistant adjutant general. "His wife was having a baby. We took another man off a plane at Minneapolis because his mother was seriously ill. Altogether, we've written emergency leave for four or five men."

Some Stragglers

"We were left behind for this and to take care of orders for any stragglers that show up," said Day, a personnel specialist. Some of the stragglers were men just finishing six months of active duty when the division was called up.

Giddings and Day will fly to Ft. Lewis.

Keller Schedules Meeting for Tavern Owners

A discussion of the law and how it pertains to the tavern business has been scheduled for a meeting of Outagamie County tavern owners with county and state officials.

The meeting was called by Municipal Judge Gustave J. Keller. It will be held at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 13 in the Municipal Court room at the court house.

The speakers will be Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer, Raymond P. Dohr, corporation counsel and judge-elect of the new county court, Don L. Jury, Appleton City Attorney, Al Breitrick, president of the Outagamie County Tavern League, Victor A. Miller, St. Nazianz, legal counsel for the Manitowoc County Tavern League, and E. C. Jones, Madison, director of the division of beverage and cigarette tax.

Judge Keller has asked in an invitation letter that tavern owners submit questions for discussion so they can be studied before the meeting.

Britain Will Back U. S. Nuclear Testing

LONDON (AP) — Britain will back the United States in testing big nuclear bombs if this becomes necessary to maintain the balance of power and preserve world freedom, Prime Minister Macmillan says.

He said Britain has no plans at this time for nuclear testing of her own and would make no test just to retaliate for the Soviet 50-megaton explosion.

"Nevertheless, I must be quite clear and frank," he told Parliament. "If I were convinced that a particular atmospheric test was necessary to maintain the balance of deterrents and preserve the freedom of the world, our country would be bound either to cooperate in or support their (American) conduct."

Firms' Costs Raised By Medical Services

BY SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Illness—and its prevention—grows more costly. Individuals don't have to be told this. And business is finding it more expensive, too. Both are well aware of the rise in medical and hospital costs in recent years.
More firms are offering employee medical services. This grows both more extensive and more expensive. Companies also are increasingly involved in meeting all or part of their employees' health insurance costs.

Medical fees and hospital care grow more expensive because costs themselves have gone up but also because care is increasingly being widened and improved.
Operating Costs Up
Hospitals have higher operating costs and pay employees more. They also offer services today with equipment unknown a few years back. New drugs, new doctoring and nursing techniques, new equipment—all push up costs. Adding to the total outlay is that Americans, with increased incomes, are seeking more medical care all the time. Each year a larger share of the spending is for prevention rather than cure. This all adds up to more than $16 billion a year that Americans now pay for medical service.

Many individuals have had to go into debt to meet costs in major emergencies. But many have had help from various sources little used by earlier generations.
Firm's Medical Center
One is from health insurance payments. Insurance companies are estimated to have paid out $3 billion in benefits in 1960. A second aid to individuals faced with illness or accidents is

Federal Aid for Treatment Plant Given Approval

Sen. William Proxmire Tuesday announced that the U. S. Public Health Service has concurred in approving a $250,000 federal grant to help Appleton build its $2 million sewage treatment plant addition. The Wisconsin Committee on Water Pollution notified the city the river is not sufficiently treated. The state committee is the controlling agency for federal money to help build treatment plants or additions to them. Approval by the federal health office is only formal procedure. It is hoped construction of the addition to the Appleton plant can be started in March, 1962. It was ordered by the state committee following a water pollution survey of the Fox River, which showed that sewage being dumped into the river is not sufficiently treated.

Going Like Sixty

Just 3 Years Ago When Bart Starr Won His First Game Over Redskins

GREEN BAY — Bart Starr is going like sixty. . . which could somehow rhyme with the Packers' six wins.

It was just three short years ago that Starr, now in his sixth year, had the fortune of winning his first game. That was a 24-0 shutout victory over the Redskins ahead 21-17 and then in the final he won the next and the final there that year.

Starr won the big three to bag the title at the end of the 1960 campaign and then lost two tough 17-13 verdicts in a row—the title game in Philly last December and the '61 league opener in Milwaukee in September.

Now, Vince Lombardi's prize quarterback project has a six-game winning skein going.

Blistering Percentage

Starr has a blistering completion percentage of 62.0 after the first seven games. He has completed 93 of his 150 attempts.

No other quarterback is in the 60 per cent bracket, according to individual statistics released by the NFL today. . . Closed are three 58's—Milt Plum of Cleveland with 58.1, Sonny Jurgensen of Philadelphia with 58.1 and Rudy Bukich of Pittsburgh with 58.2.

Starr's passes gained 1391 yards, which figures out to 9.27 one of 15 candidates who went every time he threw the ball. He through their second day of drills has thrown eight TD passes and Tuesday, seven interceptions—an average of one a game.

On a game basis, Starr has averaged nearly 200 yards on 13 completions in 21 attempts.

That reminds us of Starr's pitch-

Ron Hansen of Orioles Reports For Duty Thursday

BALTIMORE (AP) — Ron Hansen, Baltimore shortstop and American League Rookie of the Year in 1960, will report for active military duty Thursday at Ft. Meade, Md.

Hansen, 23, was ordered to report for a one-year tour. He was a member of the Army reserves and served six months of active duty last winter.

Hansen batted 247 last season with 51 runs batted in and 12 home runs.

He is the second member of the Orioles' first line squad to be ordered to active military duty since the end of the 1961 season. . . Steve Barber, Baltimore's top of the month and plans will be left-handed pitcher, reported for duty for two weeks ago.

Freshmen to Take Over Field Saturday for Annual Contest

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin guys wearing Wisconsin shirts play football.

One of Bruhn's problems this year has been a small front wall, but there isn't any such deficit in the ranks of the yearlings.

It's a long way from a big freshman to a sophomore stand-out, but at least the timber is there. This contrasts with the variety which has only three players over 225. There are tackle Roger Pillath, 240; center Tom Tomlinson, 236, and end Pat Richter, 229.

The freshmen average 196 pounds. Two of the king-sized candidates are Ralph Farmer of Madison, 6-foot-5, 217 pounds, and Joel Jensen, Iowa City, Iowa, 6-foot-2, 205.

The average weight of the tackle corps is 244 pounds, with Baitinger leading the list. Others adding to the average are Roger Erickson of Rockford, Ill., 6-3, 275; Al Piraine, 6-5, 247; Bob Monk of Wausau, 6-4, 242, and Peter Lane of Merrill, 6-3, 232.

The guards are smaller although Lee Bernet of Chicago is 6-2, 243 pounds. A 200-pounder going 6-2 is highly-regarded Ernest Von Heimburg of Marmette. Another candidate is Bill Adler, 5-9, 195 pounds of Prairie du Sac, who played Army football in Stuttgart, Germany.

Next year Bruhn's young variety will have a year of experience and the hefty freshmen will be on hand to fill out the ranks

Reverse Setback

Lawrence Frosh Post 7-0 Win Over Beloit

BELOIT—The Lawrence College freshmen football team shutout its second straight opponent Tuesday and reversed its only season setback by turning back the host Beloit frosh, 7-0. The triumph closed the Viking freshman season with a 2-1 record.

After a scoreless first half the Lawrence team repelled a Beloit drive inside the Viking five and then countered with a 33 yard final period.

Coach Gene Davis' team got the ball on the Bucs 33 when a fourth down Beloit drive play was fumbled. The Vikes recovered, jumped one of the seven Beloit fumbles Lawrence players pounced upon.

Passes of 11 and 12 yards from Al Gombor to Gary Kussow set the ball in position on the Beloit three. Paul Clark exploded the final yards off left tackle for the score. Denny Koskelin kicked the extra point and Lawrence led 7-0.

The young Vikes threw back the only serious Beloit drive of the day early in the final quarter. With Bob Dorn, Dick Ambrose, Bill Hobbins of DePere, Steve Rota, and Bill Prange of Menasha leading the way, Lawrence held the Bucs on the Viking three yard line.

From this point on the pattern of the game seemed to change. After an exchange of punts and a Beloit fumble, the Vikes got the ball on the Beloit 33. With Mike

GREEN BAY — Premontre, bottled up for almost two quarters without a first down, popped the cork with a fourth quarter flurry that netted two touchdowns and a 19-13 Fox Valley Catholic Conference victory over Little Chute St. John at East Stadium Tuesday night.

A razzle-dazzle pass play by a couple of reserve backs shot a slim 7-6 Premontre lead to 13-6 with about nine minutes remaining. The Cadets hiked it to 19-6 two minutes later, then had to fight off the determined Dutchmen again as they came back within striking distance by pushing over the game's last seven points in the last two minutes.

St. John's onside kick attempt backfired and Premontre ran out the clock, thus preserving slight Cadet hopes for a share of the conference title. Premontre is now 5-1 and could tie Appleton Xavier (6-0) if the Hawks are upset by fast-finishing Fond du Lac Springs (3-2-1) at Appleton tonight. Xavier will finish its season tonight and Premontre wraps it up at Menasha St. Mary (2-3-1) Friday night.

St. John, which outgained Premontre 231 yard to 175, suffered its second loss in six conference games.

Halfback Pat Clark, who had taken a pitchout from quarterback Tom Callahan, shot a five-yard scoring pass to Callahan to give Premontre its 13-6 lead. The Cadets scored again minutes later when halfback Bob Canadeo shot around end from 16 yards out.

St. John closed the gap with a 15-yard TD pass from Jim Geerts to Joe Verkuilen. Verkuilen kicked the extra point.

Take 6-0 Lead

The Dutchmen had taken a 6-0 lead when they drove 55 yards in 12 plays the first time they got the ball. Jim Van Asten, the night's top ground gainer and workhorse with 99 yards in 22 carries, scored from 18 yards out.

Premontre took a 7-6 lead early in the second quarter when fullback John Willems banged over from the one and Jess Kaye kicked the extra point. Willems' Turn to Page 15 Col. 6

Balanced Attack of Packers Leads NFL Offensive Statistics

Eagles Climb to Second Place; Jurgensen Heads Passing Department

NEW YORK (AP)—The defense have collected 2,393 yards in seven games. Of this, only 749 yards have resulted from running and a running attack this season. The Eagles, whose Sonny Jurgensen tops all NFL passers, are the league's passing pace-setters.

Green Bay's Packers, who lead the Western Conference, are out front in team offense. Showing a more balanced attack than the Eagles, the Packers have mustered 1,344 yards passing and 1,279 yards rushing for a total of 2,623 yards.

Best Defense

Then comes San Francisco with 2,358 yards; Dallas, 2,299 yards, and Cleveland, 2,272 yards.

The San Francisco 49ers, beaten twice in a row, nevertheless have the best defense statistically, according to figures released by NFL headquarters. The 49ers have yielded 1,578 yards, 722 on rushing and 856 on passing. The St. Louis Cardinals are No. 2 defensively, giving up 667 yards on the ground and 1,188 yards through the air for 1,761 yards.

Behind the Cardinals are the New York Giants, who have held seven foes to 1,832 yards; the Cleveland Browns, 1,873 yards, and Green Bay, 1,924 yards.

NEW YORK (AP)—Slowly but surely Philadelphia's Tommy McDonald is moving toward the top among pass receivers in the National Football League.

McDonald jumped two notches Sunday in the Eagles' 27-24 triumph over the Washington Redskins and pulled into second place behind the Los Angeles Rams' Jim Phillips.

The NFL's weekly statistical report released today shows McDonald has caught 34 passes for 519 yards and five touchdowns. Phillips has snared 38 for 660 yards and three touchdowns.

Win Over 'Skins

It was McDonald's catch of a 41-yard pass with 16 seconds remaining that gave the Eagles their victory over the Redskins and, coupled with the Dallas Cowboys' 17-16 decision over the New York Giants, elevated the defending league champions into undis-

Iowa, Ohio State Meet in Key Tilt

Hawkeyes Get Turn to Try To Stop Buckeyes' Ferguson

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS against Texas Christian, he got To say that Ohio State fullback Bob Ferguson is unstoppable may be a slight—perhaps very slight—exaggeration but it is still closer to the truth than the Iowa Hawkeyes would like to believe. Iowa has to face the fifth-ranked Buckeyes this Saturday in a crucial Big Ten game that earlier had the implications of a showdown for the conference title, and perhaps national championship honors. But Iowa was upset last week by Purdue while Ferguson powered the Buckeyes to a 30-21 victory over Wisconsin. So now the Hawkeyes, ranked ninth nationally, get their turn to try and check the 216-pound senior All America from Troy, Ohio. They might have more luck stopping the other ten Buckeyes at one turn.

New Bridegroom Sandy Stephens Is 'Back of the Week'

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Sandy Stephens of Minnesota, a brand new bridegroom picked as Back of the Week in The Associated Press poll, isn't quite ready to fully credit his new-found football fortunes to his week-old marriage. "I don't know yet," said the mild-mannered young man with the bruising style of play. "If things don't go right with Michigan State Saturday, the experts just may reverse themselves."

The Gophers coaching staff has kiddingly attributed Stephens' spurt to his marriage to an attractive St. Paul, Minn., girl two days before the Michigan victory last Saturday. In that game the 215-pound whirlwind passed and ran the Gophers from seemingly sure defeat to a 23-20 come-from-behind victory. Despite legging 63 yards for one touchdown, passing 45 yards for another and throwing for four points on two pass-conversions, Stephens still was pressed for the weekly AP honor.

Close Behind Close behind him were John Hadl of Kansas, Dave Hoppman of Iowa State, Galen Hall of Penn State, Bob Ferguson of Ohio State, Ron Miller of Wisconsin, Larry Benz of Northwestern, Pat Trammell of Alabama and Jay Wilkinson of Duke.

"I'm just happy I guess," said the Uniontown, Pa., youth when asked of his selection. "I've been trying every week, listening to the coaches, working particularly hard learning the opponents' defense and how to attack them," said Stephens. Coach Murray Warmath, while shouting the praise of Stephens as both runner and passer, saved his highest acclaim for two defensive plays by the shifty quarterback with the rugged exterior of a full-back.

Stephens, a 20-year-old six-footer, intercepted one critical pass and batted down another in the final minutes to preserve Minnesota's hard-fought victory in which the Gophers trailed 20-8 going into the last quarter. The three-year varsity quarterback credits much of his success this season, particularly his brilliant play against Illinois and Michigan, to a team that "doesn't know individualism."

"This team's playing together as a unit," said Stephens, pointing to the versatile offense that has brought Minnesota four straight victories, three in the Big Ten, after losing its opener to Missouri. Stephens says there will be no letdown going into the Michigan State fight. "We'll be up, not forgetting that we have two more tough ones left—Iowa and Purdue. Our work is still cut out for us so we'll work like last year when we won the national championship—taking them one at a time."

Torres KO's George Price Moves a Step Closer To Chance at Middleweight Title HOUSTON (AP) — Jose Torres of New York is a step closer to his hoped-for shot at the middleweight title after an impressive knockout of Houston's George Price. The knockout came with 2:31 gone in the second round Tuesday night. Price, Texas' light-heavy champion, was down three times before Torres put him away with a left to the midsection. Torres weighed 165 as he stretched his record to 22 victories and one draw. His manager, Gus D'Amato, has offered $75,000 for a match between Torres and the winner of the Terry Downs-Paul Pender middleweight championship fight. Former Olympic boxer Joe Shaw, 135, of New York—Torres' stablemate—won a unanimous 10-round decision over Henry Watson, 137, Dallas. Shaw bled badly from an eye cut after the sixth round but carried the fight to the Texan all the way. D'Amato made a similar $75,000 offer for a Shaw-Joe Brown fight for the lightweight title.

The Eagles' Sonny Jurgensen clung to the lead as the No. 1 passer with 111 completions in 191 tosses for 1,724 yards and 14 touchdowns. All three of Philadelphia's touchdowns Sunday came on Jurgensen's aerial strikes. Green Bay's Jim Taylor remained at the top among the ground gainers, rushing for 618 yards in 111 thrusts. Cleveland's Jimmy Brown is right behind him with 610 yards on 153 plays. Paul Hornung of Green Bay, the Western Conference pacesetter, added 10 points to his scoring total in the rampaging Packers' 28-10 victory over the Minnesota Vikings and has 102 points, 36 more than runner-up Lenny Moore of Baltimore.

Detroit's Yale Lary tops the punters with an average of 47.5 yards; Green Bay's Willie Wood, punt returns, with eight for 184 yards; Detroit's Pat Studstill, kickoff returns, with a 40.1-yard average, and Pittsburgh's Johnny Sample, pass interceptions, with eight for 141 yards.

Liska Picks Spartans to Top Gophers in Close Tilt

BY JERRY LISKA CHICAGO (AP) — The Halloside the Big Ten. Duke's Blue Devils are tough enough, but not big enough. It's Michigan's fifth game in Ann Arbor where the Wolverines' only loss was to Michigan State.

Notre Dame 19, Navy 14—Aerial errors faulted the Irish against Michigan State and Northwestern. However, Notre Dame's ground attack may be just enough to scuttle the Middies.

Ohio State 18, Iowa 13—On dry or wet field, Ohio State's Buckeyes figure to outlast the visiting Hawkeyes. Ohio State was vulnerable to Wisconsin passes, but the Buckeyes' ball control still prevailed. Purdue 20, Illinois 12—The Illini scored a moral victory at Southern California, but their sixth successive loss seems inevitable Saturday. The Boilermakers, if too chesty over bumping off Iowa in the mud and rain, could be ripe for a fall themselves.

Northwestern 18, Indiana 7—The Wildcats' upending of Notre Dame could make them a real spoiler the rest of the Big Ten campaign. Confidence was the main thing Ara Parseghian's young purple crew needed and they got a lot of it at South Bend, Ind. The Hoosiers, however, have mixed with such foes as Iowa and Michigan State. They'll take a lot of scratching.

Michigan 18, Duke 13 — The Wolverines seem to do well out.

Oregon Tackle Top Lineman In AP Poll

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Steve Barnett, known as the "baby buffalo" to his University of Oregon teammates, was selected as the Lineman of the Week today by The Associated Press. Barnett, a 252-pound tackle (hence his nickname), won the honor in the weekly Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters for his sterling play that helped Oregon upset Washington 7-6 last Saturday. Gifted with exceptional speed and agility, he played a terrific defensive game. Len Casanova, Oregon coach, reportedly said after the game that Barnett played a "perfect defensive game."

Two other ends, Hal Bedsole of Southern California and Pat Richter of Wisconsin, were cited for their fine play.

Bedsole, a soph, caught six passes for 85 yards and one touchdown against Illinois. He is a 6-5, 215-pound quarterback-turned-end. Milt Bruhn, Wisconsin coach, said Richter played "a whale of a game" against Ohio State.

Willems' touchdown was set up by Jim Jandrain's fumble recovery on the St. John 31. The drive featured an 18-yard run by half-back Pat O'Connor and a 13-yarder by Willems.

St. John proceeded to hold the Cadets without a first down from this point until the last day of the third quarter.

It took another recovered fumble to get the Cadets marching on their second touchdown drive. This time it was O'Connor recovering after Van Asten had gained 13 yards to his own 38.

Safety in Final 40 Seconds Trips Roosevelt Cardinals FOX VALLEY FRESHMEN LEAGUE

Neenah 6 0 0	Madison 2 4 0
Kimberly 3 1 0	Kaukauna 1 4 1
Roosevelt 3 3 0	Wilson 1 5 0
Menasha 3 3 1

Tuesday's Results: Neenah 18, Roosevelt 13. Menasha 14, Wilson 7. Madison 27, Kaukauna 0.

Neenah recovered from a 13-0 deficit Tuesday afternoon and went on to score a 15-13 victory over Roosevelt in the last 40 seconds of play to win undisputed claim to the Fox Valley Freshmen football league crown.

The winning points came as darkness began to cover the Roosevelt gridiron and Tom Noff dropped back to punt deep in his own territory. The ball flew into the end zone where Noffke fell on it before the charging ends, Gary Geiger and Dale Hildebrand, could field it.

Coach Merlin "Smiley" Feind's Roosevelt team galloped to a 13-0 lead at the end of the first period. Larry Paeth scored from the four for the first TD and LeRoy Kiepkie passed to Bruce Gunderson for the extra-point. Mark Tepper connected with Marty Lambricht for a 60-yard touchdown pass play but Kiepkie's pass attempt for the extra-point failed.

Point Falls Neenah came back in the second period on a pass from Dan Haerli to Ed Began. A running play for the extra-point failed. The junior Rockets tied the count when they drove 65 yards on the opening series of the second half. Began scored from the four to cap the drive and then ran for the extra-point to tie the score.

In other games, Menasha defeated Wilson, 14-7, and Madison toppled Kaukauna, 27-0.

Menasha grabbed a two-touchdown lead in the final period of its contest at Wilson. Greg Metko scored after a 65-yard drive and then added the point.

Wilson stopped the junior Jays on the one-foot line early in the final quarter only to fumble themselves on the five to set up a score by Tom Woodrow. Woodrow also ran for the extra-point to give Menasha a 14-0 lead.

Scott Hethrington raced 51 yards for Wilson's only TD. Ron Shelley raced over for the extra-point. Madison trimmed Kaukauna with Pat Gendron scoring three times for the winners. Gendron scored on a 40-yard pass play, four-yard end run, and on the tail end of a 60-yard drive. He also added two of the three extra-points.

John Mumme scored one marker on a 40-yard run after scooping up a fumble and fullback Bruce Witter accounted for the other point on a plunge.

Statistics from the NCAA Service Bureau Tuesday show Gross has moved the ball 1,163 yards by passing and occasional running in five games—more than

Discuss Plans For Caldwell, Jofre Clash

Ireland Bantam King Victorious In 15-Rounder

LONDON (AP) — An approving nod from a tight-lipped Brazilian set negotiations underway today for a fight between Ireland's Johnny Caldwell and Brazil's Eddy Jofre to settle the disputed bantamweight boxing championship of the world.

British promoter Jack Solomons hopes to stage the bout in London in a month. Details still have to be worked out.

Caldwell, once a lowly plumber's mate and now a ring craftsman with an unbeaten record after 25 professional fights, qualified to meet Jofre by knocking out Alphonse Halimi of France over 15, occasionally interesting rounds Tuesday night.

Caldwell thus retained the European version of the world bantam championship—a title he captured in a bloody brawl against the same Halimi last May. Jofre is recognized as world champion by the U.S. National Boxing Association and other organizations.

The Brazilian who watched Caldwell's victory from a ringside seat was Abraham Katzenelson, Jofre's manager. He nodded approval for a Caldwell-Jofre match but all he would say of the Irishman's current encounter was: "It was a good fight."

Caldwell, a cold-eyed, 23-year-old, putpouted the older but more dashing Halimi in a fight that rarely excited the crowd.

Connors College Injury List Grows and Losses Continue

BY BOB HARING

WARNER, Okla. (AP) — Eight broken arms, three injured legs, one dislocated shoulder and a brain concussion add up to a winless season for the 36-man football team of Connors Junior College.

"We thought we'd have a fair ball club and we would have had if we hadn't had any injuries," assistant coach Clarence Lynch said Tuesday. "But we've had from seven to 13 starters out all year."

"You just can't win when boys who should start for you sit on the bench."

Connors won one and lost eight last year but had looked for improvement this season.

Coaches found no special reason for the injuries or the high percentage of broken arms. "It's just one of those things," Lynch said.

Broken arms eliminated top end Dale Hair, linebacker Glen Lang, tackles John Bartell and Jerry Hedrick, halfback Bill Baker, anyone else in major college football has done in six games in three years.

Gross, who tests Army's defenses this week, has a 99-yard lead over Iowa State's Dave Hoppmann, who moved up to second place with 1,064 yards in six games. Third is Chon Gallegos of San Jose State, with 816 yards in seven games.

Top Contenders

One of the top contenders all season, Jim Wright of Memphis State, is out of it — and out of football. Although he played against Mississippi State last Saturday after missing a game with a knee injury, Wright redamaged the knee, needs surgery, and is through for the season. He's currently sixth in the list with 838 yards.

Preacher Pilot of New Mexico State has taken over from Pet Pedro of West Texas State as the leading rusher, with 756 yards in seven games to 720 for Hoppmann in six and 707 for Pedro in six. Gallegos leads in passing with 78 completions, and Bill Wright of Brigham Young remains the top punter with a 43.1 average for 24 kicks.

White Sox Hurler Hits .311

Don Larsen and Curt Simmons Top Major Pitchers in Batting Column

BY SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Larsen of the Chicago White Sox and Curt Simmons of the St. Louis Cardinals topped the major league pitchers in batting during the 1961 baseball season.

Larsen, who started the campaign with Kansas City, led the American League hurlers at bat with a .311 average, statistics compiled by The Associated Press showed today. The big right-handed swinger collected 14 hits in 45 at bats.

Simmons, a southpaw hitter, batted .303 in pacing National League pitchers. A former Philadelphia Whiz Kid who found the comeback trail with the Cards, Simmons delivered 20 hits in 66 year ago, produced three extra-base hits, all doubles. He had six RBI.

Perfect Game

Larsen, renowned for his no-hit perfect game in the World Series, Kansas City's Jge Nuxhall ranked second in the American League with a .292 average on 191 at bats.

Only two of Larsen's 1961 hits were for extra bases, but they to fourth at .250 in 1961. White Sox was third with .262, then with the old St. Louis Browns, set a major league record for most consecutive hits by a pitcher, seven.

Industry Blooms In Barren Desert

BY SYLVIA PORTER
BEERSHEBA — "In other countries, the land says 'come and take me.' In Israel, the land cries 'come and take me.' The face of our highly literate, usually a y guide, Ernest Landau, softened as he made this unforgettable remark during our stop-over at Beer-sheva, the Biblical city where Abraham dug his well, now the capital of the Negev.

Here in the Negev — a triangle of 4,716 square miles which represents more than half of all Israel and ends in a nine-mile-wide point at Eilat on the Red Sea — the technologically advanced Israelis are doing just that. Hour by hour, they are turning what has been desolate desert for a millennium into irrigated areas on which wheat, tomatoes, sugar beets, potatoes, fruit trees grow and on which cattle can graze. Day by day, they are building new factories, homes, shops, whole cities where there has been nothing but sand and dust for centuries. Regardless of what you've read and heard about the miracle of the Negev, it's impossible not to be staggered by the actual sight.

In the north of tiny Israel are its historic cities of Jerusalem, Haifa and Nazareth and this naturally has become its industrial center.

Experts Condemned It
In the southern half until 1949 there was only isolated wilderness scantily populated by Bedouin tribesmen and sheikhs still living the nomadic life of ancient times. The British wrote off the Negev as uninhabitable, and this was the basis for their contention that all Palestine couldn't support more than a half-million people. Expert team after expert team explored the Negev desert in the 1940s and concluded that the region was condemned to be useless for all time.

But in 1948, when Israel became a state and the torrent of immigration began, the Israeli fighters came down from the north to the Negev armed with a new weapon of investigation — what Rina Dalmi calls "the celebrated 'lack of alternative' which forced the solution of what looked like quite insoluble problems."

Now, Beersheba, a town of 500 only 12 years ago, is a thriving city of 50,000 with new industries, housing, settlements — new everything.

Now, the waters of the north are being pumped into the south via pipelines to convert the land into fertile soil, and the Negev is being given a giant push forward when the great pipeline designed to bring water from the Jordan River, below the Sea of Galilee, into the area is completed in 1963. Work is far advanced on desalinization of sea water and Fairbanks, Whitney has a distillation plant under construction near Eilat. Much also is being done on desalinization of underground brackish water to make it usable for agriculture.

Minerals for Export
Now, the Negev's virtually unlimited resources of minerals are being tapped for domestic use and export. On the site of King Solomon's mines, copper is being refined and a large part of it is going to Japan. From the Dead Sea plants at Sodom — 1,300 feet below sea level and the lowest spot on earth — are coming precious potash, bromine, magnesium, chloride, salt, for home consumption and sale abroad.

A full-fledged atomic research center is operating in the Negev. Israel is leading the world on experiments with solar energy in the desert. Oil wells are being drilled and natural gas is being tapped.

Now, most important of all, a deep water harbor is being created at Eilat, Israel's window on the Red Sea and her outlet to Africa and the Far East. With this harbor and her other ports on the Mediterranean, with her rapidly developing railroad and highway network, Israel will offer an alternate route to the Suez Canal which will be of vital importance to us and to the entire Western world as well as crucial to her survival.

With only the natural resources of brains, backbone and dreams, against stupendous odds and hostile neighbors, Israel has pulled herself up in 13 years from almost unbelievable chaos to a going concern. She is today an area of strength for the West and of relative stability in a backward, shaking Arab world. It's magnificent to see.

Offer Rule to Bar CPAs From Some Audits

If Interest Owned, Accountant Couldn't Examine Statement
CHICAGO — The convention of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) Tuesday proposed to its members a rule that would prohibit them from auditing financial statements of companies in which they have financial interests.

The proposed new rule, passed by members of the AICPA, will be submitted by mail in November to the institute's membership, totaling some 41,000 CPAs. The result of the vote will be made public in January. If approved, the new rule will become effective Jan. 1, 1964.

Proposed Rule
The proposed rule states that a member CPA will not be considered independent — and therefore will be forbidden to express an opinion (auditing) on a company's financial statement if he has any direct or material indirect interest in the enterprise.

This rule also holds if he has been or is an officer or director during the period covered by the financial statement.

Presently, AICPA members cannot give professional opinions on financial statements of publicly owned companies in which they hold a "substantial" financial interest.

CPAs having an interest in privately owned companies cannot certify statements to be used for credit purposes, unless the interest is disclosed in an auditor's report.

Illinois, Two Others

Illinois has had a rule similar to the proposed one for 10 years. Florida and Arizona are the only other states that have adopted similar rules.

"Our members throughout the country know the standing of the profession is based on the credibility the CPA lends to financial statements," John W. Queenan, New York, new AICPA president, said.

"The vast majority of members will recognize the new rule is designed merely to avoid any situations that might give an appearance or create an inference that a CPA's independence was impaired."

The membership also approved a proposal prohibiting a member from making a competitive bid for professional work on the grounds that competitive bidding is "not in the public interest, is a form of solicitation and is unprofessional."

Trane Reports Dip in Earnings

LA CROSSE (AP) — The Trane Co. announced today a dip in earnings and sales for the first nine months of this year, with per share income dropping to $1.37 compared with $1.69 in the same period last year.

The company announcement attributed the declines to a strike at the headquarters plant since Aug. 21. The strike was settled Tuesday night.

Sales for the third quarter, which included part of the strike period, were $22,993,817 with net profits of $880,589, the company said, compared with 1960 third quarter sales of $27,246,180 and net profits of $1,900,412.

Northwestern Life Insurance Sets New Record for Dividends

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. announced today that it will pay dividends totaling $101.5 million next year — a record for the industry. It is Northwestern's 10th consecutive annual dividend increase.

Northwestern, the nation's sixth largest life underwriter, said the dividend increase, 4.4 per cent over its 1961 scale, "results primarily from its excellent yields on investments, plus a lower than average death rate and economy of company operations."

Donald Schlechter, president of the 104-year-old firm, said dividends paid to 1.2 million owners of $10.8 billion in policies will represent 28 per cent of 1961 premiums.

Rev. F. X. Clougherty Missionary to China to Address Te Deum Group

The former chancellor of the Catholic University of Peiping will discuss China at a dinner meeting of the Appleton chapter of Te Deum International at 6:30 p.m. Monday at the Columbus Club.

The Rev. Francis X. Clougherty, O.S.B., now vice president of St. Procopius College, Lisle, Ill., was a missionary to China for 26 years.

Father Clougherty has long felt admission of Communist China to the United Nations would be at the free world's peril.

"Proper emphasis has not been given to the fact that Formosa is the bastion of freedom in the Far East," said the Catholic priest. "If it were to fall, the SEATO group would fall too."

But he is optimistic about China because of the free world's economic military, spiritual and moral strength.

Father Clougherty holds the "Order of Auspicious Star" from President Chiang Kai-shek, the highest honor the nation awards a foreigner.

He is currently speaking before Te Deum International chapters throughout the country. He is also to appear on "Project Alert," a four-day forum in December in Los Angeles with Admiral Radford, General Orville Anderson and other speakers.

Babbitt to Talk to Lorge On School Bill

Will Plan Strategy On Nelson's Veto Of Little Chute Law

MADISON — Assemblyman Marvin Babbitt, Outagamie County, plans to meet with Sen. Gerald Lorge to decide whether to try to override the veto of a bill granting an extension of Little Chute under the high school districting law or whether to try to introduce a new bill.

Gov. Gaylord Nelson Tuesday vetoed the bill on grounds the proposed extension of five years was too long an exemption to the law requiring all of the state to be within high school districts by next July 1. But Nelson recognized the special circumstances of Little Chute and proposed a two-year extension as reasonable.

Babbitt Encouraged
Babbitt was encouraged by Nelson's language in recognizing the special circumstances.

"He appears to be saying that he would accept a similar bill. He has left it open," he said.

The decision now is whether to try to get a new bill with a shorter period introduced or whether to try to get the veto overridden. Babbitt said. Getting a new bill on the floor would not be simple because of rules for the recessed session intended to limit new business. Rules Committee approval would be needed.

Most Little Chute students now attend a parochial high school. Plans for a public high school district are contingent upon an enlarged parochial school now in the planning stages.

State Hasn't Paid for Bay Defense Plan

Milwaukee Printer Says He's Caught In Battle of Giants

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — A printing bill incurred by the state office of civil defense three years ago for the production of civil defense survival plan project instructions for Green Bay and Milwaukee has not yet been paid, a mildly surprised legislative finance committee learned Tuesday.

The discovery came when the irate Milwaukee printer, C. A. Brussat, turned up to appeal to the lawmakers to approve his claim for about $17,000, which he said has been turned down by state disbursing officers on the ground that he had entered into an unconstitutional transaction with the state bureau of purchases.

Brussat complained that he had been caught in a battle of giants, the state and federal governments, and that the state had turned down his bill only after the federal auditors had refused federal reimbursement to the state of the expenditure.

Other Times He acknowledged that the state constitution requires public printing to be contracted only after bidding, and that no bidding was involved in his job. But he insisted that he had followed instructions and that he had performed similar work for the state on other occasions for which he had been paid.

Brussat complained that Herbert J. Schiege, state purchases director, had a convenient lack of memory on the details of the arrangement with him and that Adjutant Gen. Ralph Olson, the civil defense director at the time "panicked" when the federal defense officials questioned the state reimbursement claim.

The legislative finance committee is studying the claim and has indicated it may call other witnesses.

Tension Eased In McGuffey Reader Fight

KENOSHA (AP) — Wisconsin's superintendent of schools moved Tuesday to lighten tensions built up in suburban Twin Lakes in a dispute sparked by the McGuffey Reader.

Superintendent Angus Rothwell wrote from Madison that the 266 students at the Lakewood school could use the readers, published in 1873, for selected assignments. He said if that condition was met, he had no plans of withdrawing state financial aid of about $10,000 a year.

Wants Controversy to End

In a letter to school board director Dennis Beula, Rothwell said the agreement of the board not to request teachers to use the McGuffey for basic instruction had "satisfactorily resolved" the issue with the state.

Rothwell also said continuation of the controversy "can serve only to work a hardship on the pupils in the school and further a lack of harmony among adults in the community."

The dispute reached its peak Monday when one law suit was filed and another was threatened.
